ODEON LUXE LEICESTER SQUARE HOME OF PREMIERES

OSCAR'S C

ODEON CINEMA,
LEICESTER SQUARE

A project from Lester Controls

ODEON CINEMA, LEICESTER SQUARE

First opened in 1937 as the flagship cinema and part of the chain of Oscar Deutsch's Odeon Theatres, the cinema has continually featured as one of London's Film Premier Cinemas and has been renamed as the Odeon Luxe.

Over its life, the cinema has undergone many refurbishment programmes and alterations to the premises with the most recent being completed in 2018, following an 11-month, multi-million-pound refit.

As part of the project, Lester Controls provided ALMEGA II escalator controllers along with step safety and hand-rail sensors to monitor and manage escalator travel.

The escalators running side by side from the ground floor foyer to the main auditorium, operate in both upwards and downwards directions and provide access to and from the first floor circle foyer.
